Chainmail Curtain

Chainmail curtain also known as ring mesh, is a flexible, decorative, or functional barrier made from interlinked metal rings, resembling medieval chainmail armor. It serves as a unique room divider, privacy screen, or architectural feature, blending historical craftsmanship with modern design. Durable and versatile, it can be used in homes, restaurants, or theaters for aesthetic appeal or practical purposes, such as sound dampening or airflow control. Its metallic sheen and intricate patterns add a striking, industrial yet elegant touch to interiors.
